The reason for making an investigation into the business conditions of the United States this year, as compared with 1892, has already been stated in the American Economist-namely, to supply a demand made to the American Protective Tariff league for facts and figures upon the subject. These demands were so numerous that, after very deliberate consideration, it was decided in the interests of the people to undertake the work, and the result we now publish.

The idea has been to ascertain the number of hands that were employed in the different manufacturing, wholesale and retail concerns throughout the country during the period from of 1892. There are some industries that have turned out less than half. Those which were most seriously affected appear to have been the makers of agricultural implements, who, by the way, generally claim that they are not affected by the tariff. The manufacturers of cutlery, gloves, the mining industries, pearl buttons, paper hangers, pottery workers, sheep growers, the silk and woolen manufacturers are seriously injured by free trade.

Senator Stewart's Responsibility.

Senator Stewart has twice had an opportunity to prevent any tariff legislation. In failing to do so he has, for the moment, forgotten the best interests of a large section of the state that sent him to congress. His taciturnity was equivalent to a vote in favor of a new tariff bill, because his vote against it would have directly is not nearly so good."-London Telekilled the pending measure. A correspondent writes: 'There was a time when London was supposed to be the cheapest capital in the world to live in, not only for the cost of provisions, but for rent also. Next to it, but a long way after, came Paris, while Berlin and Vienna were much dearer than either of the two western cities. It seems to me that London is rapidly losing its prestage in cheapness, in one respect, at least-house rent-in comparison with Paris, even though the inhabitants of that city complain with justice that each of the various exhibition years through which they have had to pass has greatly increased the cost of existence to those who are not shopkeepers or landlords. I have just come from a considerable stay in Paris. At first I occupied a flat in the Avenue Wagram, consisting of six rooms and a bath room, for which I paid £80 a year, and afterwards Itook one on the Boulevard Malesherbes, containing one room more and to which there was a lift, for which I gave £100. Now, these localities, as everybody who has been to Paris knows, are much better than Bloomsbury, or Westminister, or St. John's Wood, and yet when I seek a flat in these districts of about the same size of those I occupied in the French capital I am asked to pay £150, £250 and £350! The thing is absurd. It is true that all rates and taxes are included, but the sum one had to pay in taxes in Paris above the rent was very small -about £3. As far as middle class flats in London are concerned the rents are now at least 40 to 50 per cent higher than in Paris and the accommodation

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Selecting an Orange. Big oranges are not good. They are all skin and fibre. If you want a "yellow cup of wine" buy small fruit, that s, fruit that runs 175 to 200 to the box. Weigh it in the hand; take the heaviest. Sweet, sound oranges are full of wine and sugar and very heavy. A thin, smooth skin is a good sign. Wide, deep pored skins are unmistakable signs of a coarse, spongy article. Bright, yellow oranges usually cost more than russet because they are prettier. When the commission merchant buys in a hurry he saves time by taking an orange in his hands and squeezing it to death. If it runs a cup of wine he takes as much of the cargo as he needs. If it runs dry he cuts the price or refuses to trade. There is no surer way to tell the value of an orange, mandarin or grape fruit. -Boston Transcript.

Replies have been received from 39 different states and territories in the United States. These replies have been carefully compiled and arranged; first, according to the states and territories from which they were received. The compilation was next condensed according to the sections of the country, showing the aggregate results of the information for each section. We then show the per cent of losses to labor or wages, and the loss of output in each section of the country, also the average earnings of labor throughout each section of the country. Further comparisons are made with the McKinley census of 1892 and our industrial census of 1893 that were undertaken by the American Protective Tariff league, and pubished in the American Economist. The last compilation is a comparison of the present conditions with those shown throughout the entire country, according to the census of 1890, this following a statement of the losses by industries. The first table gives the number of reports received from each state; the total number of hands employed by the parties making these reports during the six months ending June 30, 1892, and 1894, respectively; then we have the total amount of wages paid by these parties to their employees during the two periods; and the last column shows the proportion that their business of this year bears to the business they transarted two years ago.

These figures are as follows: rlands em- Wages paid. ployed Jan. Jan. 1 to June 1 to June 31. 1892. 1894. Reports 1892, 1894. Arkansas... 1 3 2 $391 $182 also depreciated from one third to one ness done by the wholesale and retail half. The farmer who grows only 250 pounds of wool suffers in proportion equally with the larger farmer who raises 10,000 pounds. All the farm products have fallen in value. Live beef was worth 21/4 cents in 1892; it was worth only 2 cents in 1893, and 11/2 cents this year. The actual loss per head on the 2-year-old steers that will average 1,000 pounds gross is $7.50.

Still there are some democratic farmers who will shut their eyes and vote the democratic ticket in the face of all these facts, but most old time farmers see things straight and are now amazed at their own former blind-
